6. Director commented briefly on the Mexican situation. The Judge said that State had not been particularly helpful and he would like a paper on Mexican economy as well as the problems associated with the critical food, potential crime, etc., etc.

7. The DCI described his European trip--how he would meet with Rowny and Nitze and described the three estimates, particularly noting the limitations of our monitoring capability to keep track of certain Soviet strategic weapons. The Judge agreed that the estimates should be closely held for security reasons.

8. The Director raised the retirement problem -- spoke strongly on the need for CIA to have an exemption. Said he was going to raise the issue with the President. The Judge opined that there was a good chance that the bill would go nowhere and he had heard that there probably wouldn't be any action before the year 2001. He suggested that the DCI talk to Baker.

9. The Director then asked the Judge where he stood with the directive regarding leaks. The Judge said that it had been squirreled by Baker but he, the Judge, told Baker that if it wasn't to the President by Friday he would take it there personally (the President signed it on Friday). The Judge then noted that Shultz was coming to a meeting with the President and a number of people at 2:00 on Thursday. The Judge asked Casey to be there. The subject of the meeting was negotiations with the Soviets and dialogue with Dobrynin.

10. Both Casey and Clark discussed [redacted] and bemoaned the situation. They once again reaffirmed the need for an NSDD on better security to prevent leaks.
